Good turn-out for launch of Junior Parkrun

Golfers' £4,000 boost for hospital charity

One of Deborah's photos of the white RiverTawd

Mystery of the white Tawd...

by Henry James

MYSTERY surrounds how the River Tawd in Skelmersdale was turned white a few days before Christmas!

Champion reader Deborah Halliwell, from Birch Green, took this picture of the Tawd behind the library and was disgusted by what she saw.

She said: "I was walking to the sorting office to collect a parcel that morning and my eye was drawn to the unusual colour of our local river."

After taking some photos, Deborah posted them on social network site Facebook, prompting responses from the local community about the possible causes of the discolouration.

However, the owners of the former Fredrick's dairy in the town have moved to quash speculation that it was responsible for the problem.

A spokesperson for Froneri UK, who now own the former Frederick's Dairy site at Prospect Place, said: "I can confirm that the last day of production at our Skelmersdale site was Friday, December 16 and therefore we cannot be responsible for the discolouration in the River Tawd reported on December 22.

"No liquid was flowing on the site from December 16 until production resumed on January 2 and, in addition, all liquid is held in an effluent tank before being pumped direct to United Utilities."

Deborah Halliwell added: "It's a bit of a grim sight all the same. The Tawd is a beautiful area, one of the nicest aspects of Skelmersdale in my opinion. If this is the result of dumping I find that most upsetting and it makes me angry that it would be so flippantly spoiled."

SYRIAN REFUGEE FAMILIES COULD BE RESETTLED IN BOROUGH

FIVE Syrian refugee families could be resettled in West Lancashire under proposals to be discussed by the local authority.

The families would be brought to the borough as part of the Syrian Resettlement Programme (SRP).

The UK Government has agreed to resettle up to 20,000 refugees in the next five years.

If the proposals are approved the families would arrive in the borough by July.

In a report for the meeting of the authority's cabinet to be held next Tuesday, January 10, when the matter will be discussed, Dave Tilleray, director of leisure and wellbeing at WLBC, writes: "On arrival, the resettled families will be assisted into accommodation in the private rented sector.

"If a refugee family chooses to apply to the council for accommodation at a later date, the application will be assessed in accordance with the council's housing allocations policy.

Report by Henry James

"The proposed delivery option for West Lancashire is to commission certain elements to a third sector organisation, of which there are a number of organisations currently carrying out this type of work.

"It is recommended that the council sources and secures suitable accommodation in the private sector to ensure the property meets the required standards with the integration support being commissioned to a third sector organisation."

A steering group would be set up in January to oversee the project and provide a progress report a month after the families have arrived.

The Home Office provides funding for both the SRP and the Vulnerable Children Resettlement Scheme (VCRS).

Payments are made yearly to cover local authority costs (currently £8,250 per person); and education (currently £4,500 for each child aged 5 to 18 and £2,500 for each child aged three or four).

Individuals are assessed by the United National High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) while in the refugee camps. Those chosen for resettlement include women and girls at risk; survivors of violence and/or torture; and refugees with medical needs or disabilities.

Syrians taking part in the scheme are given a five-year humanitarian protection visa and during that time they can work, claim some income-related benefits and apply for social housing. After this time, the families can go back to Syria, or apply to stay in the UK permanently.

Lancashire County Council is organising the programme in the county and aims to resettle 575 refugees by 2020.

Dry January is a popular initiative aimed at reducing alcohol intake

Health bosses urge residents to bin the booze

Report by Henry James

PEOPLE across West Lancashire are being urged to think about the alcohol that they drink, as part of Dry January.

Lancashire County Council is supporting the national Dry January campaign, run by Alcohol Concern, and encouraging people to join in.

Reducing the amount of alcohol people drink has health benefits by helping them to lose weight and sleep better. It also helps individuals to save money.

Dry January is about not drinking alcohol, swapping alcoholic drinks for something softer, and thinking about changing drinking habits.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "It's the time of year when people are thinking about making a positive start to 2017.

"It's important that people think about what they're drinking and the effect that it can have on their health. Around one in five of Lancashire's population are considered to be at an increased risk of damaging their health because of their alcohol consumption.

"Many people will drink a lot more over Christmas and New Year. Joining in Dry January is a positive way to start 2017."

For more information about Dry January, visit www.alcoholconcern.org.uk/dry-january.

No one can say drinking any amount of alcohol is safe. However, current guidelines suggest that men and women are advised not to regularly drink more than 14 units of alcohol a week.

For more information, search 'alcohol' at www.nhs.uk/Change4Life.

£1.549m in parking fees!

NHS trust coins it in as patients and visitors pay the price for hospital stays in Southport and Ormskirk

Report by Henry James

Ormskirk Hospital

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk Hospital Trust made a whopping £1,549,359 from parking fees in 2015/16.

The statistics are part of a new report from the Press Association, which showed that NHS hospitals in England collected more than £120 million last year - up by 5%.

When gathering the findings, the PA asked all 120 trusts for figures, with 89 responding to the Freedom of Information request.

In the 12 months of the 2015-16 financial year, a total of £668,501 was collected at Ormskirk District General Hospital and £880,858 at Southport District General Hospital. The income is down on the money generated at the car parks last year (£1,627,271 - 2014/15).

To park for 20 minutes at the hospital it is free, for 20 minutes to two hours it is £2.90, from two to four hours it is £3.50, from four to eight hours it is £4.30 and for more than eight hours it is £5.30.

A spokesman for Southport and Ormskirk Hospital Trust said: "Parking fees are used to fund the maintenance and management of the car parks with the remainder going directly to patient care.

"Parking passes are available from the trust for £10 a week or £30 for three months for frequent visitors. A £10 refundable deposit is payable. The passes are available from the general office at both hospital sites and from a vending machine or the porters' lodge out of office hours."

Across the country, the PA showed that £120,662,650 had been collected in car park fees over 2015/16, up from £114,873,867 the year before.

Many trusts defended the charges, saying the money was put back into patient care or maintaining car parks.

Katherine Murphy, chief executive of the Patients Association, believes that parking charges should be capped and any funding gaps should not be met by raising prices for car parks.

She said: "This is not what car parking charges should be used for. The NHS is clearly underfunded, but the onus on meeting the funding crisis should most certainly not be shouldered by the sick, injured and vulnerable."

Hospital car parking fees were abolished in Scotland and Wales in 2008, although a small number of hospitals still charge as they are signed up to private contracts to manage their parking facilities.

In 2014, hospitals in England were told to cut the cost of parking for certain groups under new government guidelines.

Ministers said relatives of people who were seriously ill or had to stay in hospital for a long time should be given free parking or reduced charges.

Hospital parking in Wales and Scotland is largely free.

Bella is now making a good recovery

Abandoned dog rescued by eagle-eyed trio

by Danielle Thompson

THREE festive revellers who rescued a suffering puppy which had been abandoned on the side of the road have been praised for saving its life.

The white and black American Bulldog-type puppy - believed to be around three to four months old - was spotted from a taxi window by the trio on Appley Road South in Appley Bridge as they made their way home from an evening out at around 10pm on Tuesday, December 27.

They asked the driver to pull over and spotted that the dog, who they named Bella, was bleeding.

However, the taxi wouldn't take them to a vets so the friends knocked on doors until finally they were taken in by one kind resident who wrapped the pup in blankets while they waited for an RSPCA inspector to arrive.

The inspector, Alison Fletcher, then took the pup to the RSPCA Greater Manchester Animal Hospital where she was operated on for a prolapse and is now making a good recovery.

Bella had no collar or ID tag and had not been micro-chipped so the RSPCA have so far been unable to trace where she was from.

Alison Fletcher said: "After they asked the taxi driver to pull over they realised she was bleeding from the rear and as the taxi wouldn't take them to a local vets, two of them stayed with her while the third went home to call us.

"Unfortunately I was about 30 minutes away so they started knocking at nearby houses and were taken in by a caring couple who provided blankets and towels for Bella and kept her warm and comfortable until I got there. They all went above and beyond to help this little dog, and no doubt saved her life.

"The vet confirmed that the prolapse had been there for some time and had been left untreated. Bella was also underweight.

"As she wasn't wearing a collar and ID tag or microchipped, as is required by law, we do not know who her owners are at the moment and are appealing for anyone who recognises her and knows who they are, or who saw anything, to get in touch.

"Bella is a very loving pup and if out roaming would have approached people easily, which leads me to believe that she had not been out alone for long. I suspect she was abandoned on the roadside on Tuesday night due to the condition she was suffering."

Anyone who has information can call the RSPCA's appeal line on 0300 123 8018 and ask to leave a message for Inspector Fletcher.

£400 boost for school's gaming area appeal

Staff from the Co-operative Bank present the cheque to West Lancashire Community High

A SPECIAL school's fundraising efforts have received a timely boost - courtesy of the Distribution Assurance at the Co-operative Bank.

The Parents and Teachers Association at West Lancashire Community High School approached the company for help in raising funds for a Multi Use Gaming Area (MUGA).

And the firm took up the challenge by holding cake sales, raffles and a 10k sponsored run to raise £400 for the cause.

The gaming area will be used by the disabled pupils at the school and also by pupils at other neighbouring school.

The PTA said they were "extremely grateful" for the support from Distribution Assurance at the Co-operative Bank. Any other companies or businesses who would like to support the cause can contact the PTA secretary Sharon Thorpe on 01695 721487.

Hillsborough campaigner refuses an OBE

Report by Henry James

HILLSBOROUGH campaigner and former Edge Hill University lecturer, Professor Phil Scraton has refused an OBE in the Queen's New Year Honours List.

Professor Scraton led the Hillsborough Independent Panel's research team and said he could not take the honour from those "who remained unresponsive to the determined efforts of bereaved families and survivors to secure truth and justice."

The crush at Hillsborough on April 15, 1989 led to the death of 96 people and an inquest jury in April, 2016 found that the fans were unlawfully killed.

'Hillsborough: The Truth', written by Professor Scraton is considered to be a definitive account of what happened.

Significant

Professor Scraton said: "I researched Hillsborough from 1989, publishing reports, articles and the first edition of Hillsborough: The Truth in 1990.

"Until 2009, and despite compelling evidence, successive governments declined to pursue a thorough, independent review of the context, consequences and aftermath of the disaster.

"This changed as a direct result of the families' and survivors' brave, persistent campaign.

"It led to the Hillsborough Independent Panel, its ground-breaking findings, new inquests and their crucially significant verdicts.

Professor Phil Scraton

"I headed the panel's research team and was a consultant to the families' lawyers throughout the new inquests."

He said his refusal of an OBE "might come as a disappointment to some Hillsborough families, survivors and whoever nominated me."

But he added: "Finally, I could not accept an honour tied in name to the 'British Empire'.

"In my scholarship and teaching I remain a strong critic of the historical, cultural and political contexts of imperialism and their international legacy."

Competitors at the first Skelmersdale Junior Parkrun

Encouraging turn-out for first Skelmersdale Junior Parkrun

THE first Skelmersdale Junior Parkrun was launched last month and the event will now take place every Sunday of the year at 9am, with the second event set to be held this Sunday, January 8.

A total of 91 young runners turned out for the launch on a chilly winter morning, with an age spread from four to 14 years.

Commenting on the launch, event director Paul Cotterill said: "It was great to see so many smiling faces out on a cold Sunday morning.

"For many, this will have been their first ever group run like this, though we also had a number of seasoned campaigners.

"The emphasis is on fun, and it was great to see how quickly the ethos has taken hold, with faster, bigger runners encouraging the littler ones as they approached the line.

"We've had great support from local schools to date, and special thanks should go to the team at Woodland Community Primary School.

"There is already a strong running set up at Woodland and many of the 91 runners were from there, but we're also very grateful for the support they've provided to other schools.

"Thanks are also due to the team of volunteer marshals. Junior Parkrun is managed on the basis that runners are always in sight of a marshal and so we need 12 each week.

"As the event grows, we'll encourage parents and other relatives to help with the marshalling, but we also welcome approaches from other members of the community who fancy getting up and out on a Sunday morning to help cheer on the children.

"Registration for Parkrun is free and easy. Just go to www.parkrun.org.uk, follow the process and print off a barcode. This is scanned at the end of the run, along with a position token handed out at the finish line, to produce the results.

"We are, however, aware that not everyone has easy access to a printer, and we can usually print off barcodes for newly-registered runners if we are sent the registration details by email to skelmersdale-juniorsoffice@parkrun.com

"There was, though, a touch of controversy about the launch. We have been told that Skelmersdale Junior Parkrun was the only parkrun in the world to go underneath a roundabout, and - as you'd understand given our roundabout heritage - we are very proud of that.

"However, we've been contacted by Greenpoint Parkrun in Cape Town who claim that they also go under a roundabout.

"We've looked at their course map and dispute their claim, of course, but it may be that in time we'll have to organise some kind of exchange trip to check it out properly."

Police commissioner's funding boost for youth group

SKELMERSDALE Action for Youth (SAY) has received funding from the Lancashire police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw, to run activities for young people from Digmoor, Tanhouse and across the town.

The money will be used to prevent youths from engaging in anti-social behaviour and to help them get involved in their own community.

SAY Let's Get Activity Programme is aimed at young people, both male and female, from the ages of seven to 14 years.

The group run activities like crossbows, team games, human ladders, curling, and Cardiff Skate sessions.

The Cardiff Skate sessions will be run on a Monday and Friday evening from 4.30 to 5.30pm at Evermoor Hub Community Centre.

SAY will start the crossbow classes on Monday, January 9 and these will be open to any young person age seven and above.

Alan Lewis from SAY said: "We will be working in partnership with Skelmersdale police officers and PCSOs on the local neighbourhood teams who have a number of challenges on the estates of Digmoor and Castlehey.

Crossbows will be among the activities SAY will provide for young people

"Our activities aim to increase well being among the youngsters and motivate them into new sport activities."

Meanwhile, Wigan Athletic Community Trust will restart their football session on Monday evenings from 6 to 8pm at Evermoor Hub and at the fire station on Thursday evenings, also from 6 to 8pm.

Alan Lewis added: "SAY, Wigan Athletic and Lancashire Fire and Rescue would like to thank the police and crime commissioner for his support. We also want to thank Jill Halliwell and Margaret Highton at Evermoor Hub."

Changes to Beechtrees project could see 22 houses built on estate

Report by Henry James

PROPOSED changes to the Beechtrees Revival project in Skelmersdale could see 22 two-bedroom houses being built in the scheme.

As part of the original scheme work included the major refurbishment of six blocks of flats, but this has now been re-assessed because of the extensive work which would have to be done to achieve this.

Officers at West Lancashire Council are now in favour of demolishing the six blocks and replace them with 22 two-bedroom houses. The option would take the cost of the scheme to £4,095,000.

They believe it will provide the "biggest impact" on the estate. However they point out it will lead to a reduction in the number of units.

In a report for the council cabinet meeting on Tuesday, January 10, Jacqui Sinnott-Lacey, director of housing and inclusion at West Lancs Council states that the "balance has now shifted to a new build solution, due to the increase in costs relating to the detached flat refurbishments. This will provide the biggest improvement on the estate."

The Beechtrees estate

The council has said the proposal will improve the provision of affordable housing in Skelmersdale and will meet the housing needs of the community.

The Beechtrees Revival project was first agreed by council at the end of February 2015 with a budget of nearly £3m over three years. It included the major refurbishment of flats, the construction of new houses and the demolition of flats and houses.

After a government announcement was made about rent reductions, the scheme was deferred.

The council decided to proceed with the project in February 2016 and allocated a further £630,000 towards the project from the Firbeck Revival project.

Nostalgia lovers flock to village photo exhibit

David Lavery cuts the ribbon (inset while (main) hundreds flock to the show.

MORE than 600 nostalgia lovers recently turned up to enjoy an exhibition of photos from in and around Burscough

Report by Danielle Thompson

The aptly titled Images of Burscough Exhibition, organised by local history buffs, Michael Dawson, Lawrence Critchley and Debra Baldwin, was held in the main hall of the Stanley Club in Liverpool Road North.

It was officially opened by David and Erica Lavery, the grandchildren of Isaac Herbert Lavery, the founder of a local cake factory that once employed up to 2,000 people at its site in Red Cat Lane.

The exhibition featured around 500 images of the West Lancashire area including Ormskirk, Scarisbrick, Lathom, Rufford and Newburgh, along with displays of many items of local memorabilia, including some from the former HMS Ringtail.

There were also various displays by Richard Houghton from the Lathom & Burscough Military Heritage Society, the Ormskirk and District Family History Society and the Burscough Heritage Group. Raffle tickets were on sale along with a variety of locally-themed items including calendars, Christmas cards, fridge magnets and mounted prints.

The popular page, Images of Burscough and the Surrounding Areas, has almost 3,000 followers on social media sites Facebook and Twitter.

Michael Dawson said: "The exhibition was a great success on Saturday with more than 600 visitors. I was actually quite shocked as not only local people attended but many others from all over the country!

"One couple turned up and told me that through the Images of Burscough Facebook group they had recently traced one another and are now engaged!

"So I was thanked several times and invited to the wedding.

"Many people brought in lots of old local photos, but one lady, Ina France who is 94 brought in my favourite image of the day showing the old Smithy in Victoria Street.

"Ina also had many stories to tell and it was a pleasure listening to her.

"I'd like to thank everyone who attended on the day and everyone who helped make the day possible, it was a big group effort."

For more information and to view a host of local images log on to www.images-of-burscough.co.uk.

£25,000 needed to improve Tawd Valley

A TOTAL of £25,000 could be spent on Tawd Valley Park as part of a programme of significant environmental and recreational improvements.

Council officers have drawn up the plans and are recommending that the cabinet approve them at their meeting on Tuesday, January 10.

The Tawd Valley Park is a public open space area which runs alongside the River Tawd for 2km to Ashurst.

It is near most of the residential areas of the town.

In a report for the Cabinet meeting David Tilleray believes the park "offers the potential to be a valuable recreational and environmental asset to the local community."

However, Mr Tilleray comments to do this "will require careful and co-ordinated planning and investigation to establish environmental improvements that are required to improve the health of the park, and recreational facilities that are beneficial to the local community and are what local people want."

The Tawd Valley in Skelmersdale

When the council ran a development project at Coronation Park in Ormskirk, a master plan for the park was drawn up following an "extensive" consultation process. They have judged that process successful and hope to use the same approach at Tawd Valley Park.

An officer working group was set up in November 2016 and consisted of West Lancashire Borough Council, Environment Agency, Groundwork CLM, Douglas Valley Programme and Lancashire County Council.

It has been agreed that the master plan will include a public consultation to let the community know about the improvements.

The council have said that the improvements to Tawd Valley Park would "greatly increase" the level of healthy outdoor activity for the local community. The authority also has commented that involving the local community in decision-making would make people feel like they owned the park."

Churchgoers' festive gift to families in need

KIND parishioners from a church in Burscough made a festive donation to the less fortunate in the community this Christmas.

David Orritt from St John the Baptist Church presented the donation of food and Christmas gifts to foodbank volunteer Ken Ashcroft at the Ecumenical Centre in Skelmersdale.

These were given out to local families in need over the Christmas period.

Police alert after homes targeted

WEST Lancs residents are being urged to be extra-vigilant after a number of homes were burgled during the festive season.

A number of properties in the borough have been targeted throughout December with a spike coming in the last week.

A spokesperson for Lancashire Constabulary said: "We are investigating a number of homes being burgled since the beginning of December with a spike of seven high-value properties being targeted in Appley Bridge, Rufford, Aughton, Newburgh, Ormskirk, Lathom and Scarisbrick on December 30.

"Most of the properties were unoccupied due to the home owners being on holiday over the festive period or simply out for the day.

"However, one back door was opened whilst the occupier was at the front of their home and the offenders fled when they realised they had been heard.

"These burglaries are taking place from early afternoon to the early hours of the morning with cash and jewellery taken from within and cars taken from the drives.

"Please be mindful of your neighbours' homes and don't ignore any alarms or suspicious activity.

"This is your neighbourhood so if you think that something isn't quite right then it probably isn't. Let us know so we can check it out."

Anyone with information is asked to contact the police on 101.

Owners submit plans for improvements to former Matalan site

Report by Henry James

THE owners of the M58 Distribution Centre on the Gillibrands Industrial Estate in Skelmersdale, which used to be the home of Matalan, have submitted an application to make improvements to the location.

Orbit want to ensure that the floorspace is "successfully re-let to prospective new tenants."

They are proposing to install eight new loading doors and create a concrete service yard and make amendments to servicing and layout.

The M58 Distribution Centre has 52,000 square metres of industrial, office and warehouse space. It is adjacent to the M58 motorway and is close to the M6.

The former Matalan HQ in Skelmersdale

Strategy

The site is half-a-mile from the town centre and it is connected to the town's footpath network. Regular bus services also stop near the site.

A design and access statement prepared by The Emerson Group on behalf of Orbit Investments, states: "The site was previously used as Matalan's headquarters and national distribution centre, until their recent relocation to alternative premises outside the borough.

"The site was formally handed back in February 2016 to owners Orbit who are keen to ensure that the floorspace is successfully re-let to prospective new tenants.

"A comprehensive new marketing strategy is now being followed in order to promote the site to prospective new tenants by improving the outlook and appearance of the existing site and buildings."

The application relates to unit three, which can be found in the south western part of the site. It comprises a two-three storey warehouse building which is attached to unit four, but is split internally."

The donation was made by SHARES Pupil Parliament, which includes elected representatives from local primary schools.

website www.cygnet-kitchens.com

A new kitchen is an important addition to any home. It has to be designed well to fit your needs, made of quality to house excellent appliances and is generally one of the most expensive rooms to up grade, every detail will count as a kitchen or bedroom will have to last for many years.

Cygnet Kitchens are an established business that stops at nothing to ensure total satisfaction from start to finish on any new kitchen or bedroom they undertake. This is why in a matter of a few years the company has known huge success, even in those economically challenging times.

The business started in 2013 under the helm of Paul Wilkinson and Brian Critchley who very quickly became a very well respected Kitchen Company within the area.

So what have the two men to offer that is so different from other retailers and why do their customers keep recommending them?

The first important reason is simply 40 plus years experience in the kitchen industry from the pair. They are also able to take on a brief and develop it fully thanks to highly trained technicians who will always go that extra mile to ensure each job is delivered on time and within the budget agreed.

Kitchen design in particular has suffered over the years from a poor reputation by national suppliers who in a matter of minutes put a plan together, leading to unfulfilled expectations and delays.

Cygnet Kitchens are a million miles away from that as they fully project manage every thing they undertake and only use highly trained quality tradesmen.

Add to this, partnership with some of the biggest and most loved brands in the UK (AEG, BOSCH and SIEMENS to name but three) and you know you can trust Cygnet Kitchens completely from the moment you step into their beautiful showroom.

Paul and Brian are also introducing new concepts with the opening of an additional showroom with a very new and clever concept of a Cook Centre designed for you to try new appliances and see exactly what your kitchen will benefit from before you purchase. Another assurance of a guarantee of quality from this innovative company

It's no wonder that Cygnet Kitchens has achieved over 80% of their new business from recommendations by happy customers and as Paul points out: 'This is probably the most important thing in what we do, 100% customer satisfaction is the very thing we strive to deliver and the best advert you can have.

With the plans to open a brand new bespoke showroom in Ormskirk within a few weeks well,under way, it pays to consider Cygnet Kitchens if you are looking for a new kitchen or bedroom. Why not have a chat with Paul and Brian today?

Breathe Easy Group on song to celebrate its 15th anniversary

THE West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy Group, the local branch of the British Lung Foundation charity, recently met to hold their AGM and celebrate their 15th anniversary since the group's inception.

Joining the group of committee and members for the meeting were two representatives from the British Lung Foundation.

Petra McCauley, the volunteer manager for Breathe Easy Groups around the country, and Lisa Williams, from the BLF Project Development Executive were guests.

Petra introduced herself and gave a talk about the benefits of volunteering.

Then she lead the group in some singing exercises and choruses, and a starter for the choir the local organisation hope to form during 2017.

Patricia Ireland from the West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy group said: "Singing is so advantageous, for it helps to inflate the lungs, strengthens the muscles of the chest and is a social activity, most uplifting!"

The group has had a very successful 12 months, and future plans. Harry Thacker has agreed to continue in his role as chairman for the year ahead while vive chairman Irene Norman is to remain as a committee member in an advisory role, but is now moving on to a wider voluntary role within the British Lung Foundation, as a speaker and advisor in helping to set up new Breathe Easy groups.

Patricia Ireland from the group said: "Many of our members are understandably struggling healthwise.

"We need a vice chairperson and some additional committee members and will be very grateful for anyone from the wider community of West Lancashire and Southport who could help us."

Contact Harry on 01695 576682, Irene on 01695 632501 or Pat on 01704 808891.

The first meeting of 2017 will be held on Monday, January 16, at the Girl Guide HQ in Green Lane, Ormskirk,- next door to the Rugby Club at 11am, with free, light refreshments, followed by the speaker at 11.30am. All members, friends and visitors will be warmly welcomed.

Debt advice service urged callers to use mobile number

STAFF at West Lancs Debt Advice are urging callers to contact them on their mobile number as they are having teething problems with transferring their landline number to a new location.

The Champion revealed last month that the debt management service had moved to Emmanuel Methodist Reformed Church on the corner of Derby Street and Stanley Street in Ormskirk.

The free debt advice service is now sited at the back of the building in the Langham Hall extension. Debt experts hold sessions from 7pm to 9pm on Tuesdays and alternative Saturdays from 9.30am to 11.30am as well as drop-in sessions from 1pm to 4pm on Thursdays.

Trained volunteers provide confidential advice and practical support, working with clients to help resolve debt issues and set up affordable repayment plans.

The service can be reached by texting 07731 482120 (you can call but currently cannot leave a voicemail so texting is preferred so they can call you back) or emailing debtadvice@wlda.org.uk

County council sets aside £500,000 to relieve burden on hospitals

Report by Danielle Thompson

LANCASHIRE County Council will spend up to £500,000 on helping the county's hospitals.

A social care team will survey the area's hospitals on a regular basis to identify immediate actions that can speed up the discharges of patients from hospital.

Where these actions require additional funding, a £500,000 contingency fund will ensure money is immediately available.

The contingency fund is part of a raft of measures introduced by the county council to tackle winter pressures.

County Councillor Tony Martin, cabinet member for adult and community services

These include:

• Increased staff capacity over Christmas and the New Year to ensure that there are social work staff on site at hospitals every day through the festive period.

• Restricted annual leave across hospital and community teams to ensure 80% of available staff are in work from December to January 31.

• An additional 20 occupational therapists are being recruited to enable more timely assessments and enable people to remain more independent in their own homes.

• An additional 300 hours of crisis domiciliary care support will also be commissioned to provide extra capacity.

• Additional care navigation hours will be arranged to help find appropriate places in residential care, ensuring an efficient flow of people through the care system.

The county council's senior managers will continue to work very closely with health colleagues to provide resources where they are most needed and can be most effective for people.

County Councillor Tony Martin, Lancashire's cabinet member for adult and community services, said: "There are serious pressures on the health and social care system across the country and we face the same pressures here in Lancashire.

"It's a measure of how seriously we take this issue that we have identified this funding at a time when the county council is facing an unprecedented financial challenge.

"I am committed to doing all we can for our frail elderly citizens over the winter months.

"For the longer term we are working very hard on how we can manage future demand, as we face reducing budgets and rising costs.

"We are fully committed to working with colleagues in the trusts and the clinical commissioning groups to try and ease pressures and keep the system running through the rest of the winter."

County council hosts adoption information event

PEOPLE in Lancashire are being urged to think about whether they would like to grow their family through adoption this year.

Lancashire County Council is holding a special event at County Hall in Fishergate, Preston on Tuesday, January 10 aimed at helping interested parties to find out more about adoption and the process involved. It will run from 6 to 7.30pm and there is no need to book

Those wishing to adopt must be over 21 and live in the county or close by. There are no restrictions on race, gender, sexuality, living arrangements or employment status.

The council is focussing on two different types of adoption, so that more babies and young children can go to live with their permanent family more quickly.

Concurrent placements place babies and young children, aged up to two, with foster carers who may go on to give them a permanent home.

And the fostering-for-adoption scheme is for children where there is no realistic prospect of a return to their birth family.

Seven children were adopted in Lancashire in the past year under the concurrent placements scheme and six through the fostering-for-adoption process.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "We're looking for people from all backgrounds to offer a permanent home and family to children who are not able to live with their birth family.

"What matters to us are your personal qualities and that you are able to provide a loving home where you can support and look after a child throughout their childhood and beyond."

For more information about the evening and the adoption process go to the website lancashire.gov.uk/adoption, or call the adoption team for an informal chat on 0800 195 1183.

Youngsters fail to take a walk on the wild side

Just one in three of the children have seen a badger in the wild

A POLL of children in Lancashire and Sefton has found that only one in three has ever seen a badger in the wild.

The YouGov poll, which was taken by more than 1,200 children aged from eight to 15 years old, was commissioned by The Wildlife Trust for Lancashire, Manchester and North Merseyside to see how many had seen badgers, hedgehogs, squirrels and foxes in their natural surroundings – and how many enjoyed visiting outdoor areas including rivers, lakes or woodlands.

The poll found that 89% children agreed that being outdoors makes them happy; 81% like seeing wildlife in their garden or local area like birds or trees; 80% enjoy visiting wild places like rivers, lakes or woodlands and 70% enjoy playing outside including climbing trees and building dens.

It also revealed that many of the chidlren had never seen 'common' animals in the wild - 67% had never seen a badger; 25% had never seen a hedgehog and 23% had never seen a fox!

However, it was very good news for squirrels – all of the children had seen one, and almost half had seen one in the previous week!

Anne Selby, chief executive officer, suggested that the Trust's reserves across the North West – which include Mere Sands Wood in Rufford – are a good place to spot wildlife.

She said: "Hedgehogs are struggling as population numbers fall but they are still wandering into our gardens. We are proud of our red squirrel outposts, but we also realise that grey squirrels are one of the first wild mammals a child might see.

"Our reserves are a wonderful opportunity for families to enjoy a healthy walk and also see something wonderful. Only this week we have seen a video of spotted rare bittern at Mere Sands Wood. If you don't get out there, you won't experience the wild things in your area."

Residents 'should act on diabetes advice' to avoid developing condition

Report by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs residents who at risk of developing diabetes are now being offered support to help them to avoid the potentially life-threatening condition.

In an expansion of the pioneering Healthier You: NHS Diabetes Prevention Programme (DPP), people who have been identified by their GP as being at risk of developing Type 2 diabetes will be offered education and lifestyle coaching.

Type 2 diabetes can cause serious health issues including amputation, blindness and kidney failure.

Lancashire and South Cumbria is one of 13 new areas announced nationally that will be rolling out the programme, which is run collaboratively by NHS England, Public Health England and Diabetes UK.

Those referred on to the programme will be given tailored, personalised help to reduce their risk of Type 2 diabetes, including education on healthy eating and lifestyle, help to lose weight and bespoke physical exercise programmes, all of which together have been proven to reduce the risk of developing the disease.

Support

Andy Curran, medical director for Healthier Lancashire and South Cumbria, said: "An important aspect of the Sustainability and Transformation Plan for Lancashire and South Cumbria is that our health and care services need to work together to support people in our communities.

The programme will put people in control of their health by giving them the tools, information and support they need to make changes to their lifestyles that can significantly reduce their risk of the disease and the potential complications associated with it like stroke and kidney failure."

Pals perform free for charity!

A GROUP of friends have formed a new band which hopes to raise funds for charities by hosting free performances.

Alan Cross from Ormskirk, Mike Dagnall, Jackie Dagnall and Roy Caslake, all from Rufford, Phil Ashton from Leyland and Dave Parry from Wigan have teamed up to form The Throstle Pickers - a brand new band that performs for free across West Lancashire to raise funds for charity.

Mike told the Champion: "We are all amateur but committed musicians who have formed the band to play for our own fun.

"We want to help, where we can in providing live music for whatever function folk may be having

"We are all in our 50s and 60s and play all kinds of music ranging from George Formby to the Beatles

"We don't charge a fee apart from a cup of tea and some cake or sandwiches, but any donations towards our expenses would be warmly welcomed.

"We're already on the availability lists for charities including Help for Heroes and Save the Children and we're available to book via all of the churches in the Blackburn Diocese.

If you would like to book the band or for more information about their performances you can get in touch via emailing Throstlepickers@yahoo.com

Walking group offers chance to get some healthy exercise

WALKERS can enjoy healthy exercise and make a donation to a good cause by joining up with a local group.

The Action Walkers, based at Aughton Village Hall, have organised a series of leisurely five-mile circular weekend walks around West Lancashire and the surrounding areas throughout January, February and March.

Walks start from the hall in Winfred Lane at 1pm before meeting back there for refreshments.

The walks and refreshments are free but a small donation for Queenscourt Hospice is always appreciated say club members.

There is no need to book, just turn up.

The first walk on Saturday, January 7 will cover Lydiate. This will be followed by Edge Hill University's Ormskirk campus (Sunday, January 22); Clieve's Hill (Saturday, February, 11); Downholland (Sunday, February 26) and Lydiate (Saturday, March, 11).

For more details about the walks email group leaders, Mark and Julia at actionwalkers@gmail.com

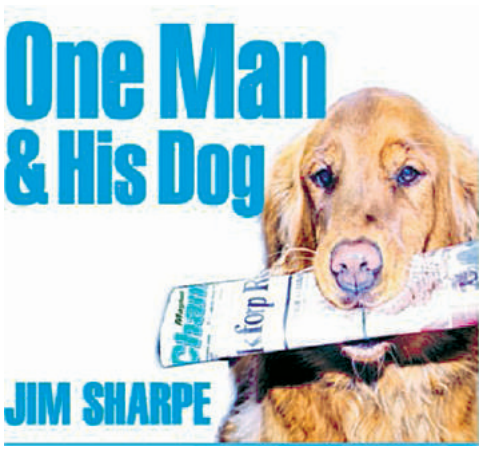
OLD BED RECYCLING SERVICE



Councillors should not be so precious about privacy

BEST wishes for a happy and healthy New Year.

And first, an apology from the old one.

I'm afraid many of the Christmas cards I was due to deliver by hand around Maghull and Lydiate on Christmas Eve never arrived due to a combination of things unforeseen.

First, wind and rain was forecast - not good but usually put-up-able.

But since my heart trouble last year I have become probably quite unnecessarily cautious.

More vitally though, my contact list of names and addresses has disappeared – lost I think in the aftermath of my stay in hospital.

These lists began as I started reporting back in the 1980s when Maghull's town clerk gave me a list of local councillors' names, addresses, and phone numbers. He also gave me a list of local organisations and their organisers' names etc.

I added various other names and phone numbers of useful local contacts.

And after each local council election, I was courteously given a list of the new contact details.

Now these lists have gone, where I do not know. I thought, I could make a useful start on replacing them by getting an up-to-date list of Town and local Sefton councillors from Maghull Town Hall. Simple.

Not so! At first I was met with "we don' t give councillors' personal details out." Then, after the intervention of the council leader, I was eventually (after half and hour or so of assurances on my part that I would not 'misuse' this information in any way) given a list of councillors' names and addresses – but no phone numbers.

I was told many of them did not want their phone numbers made public.

Now I can understand that - my life too would be far more quiet if people didn't ring me with both stories and, occasionally, complaints.

Unhappily the paper would contain very little by way of news, and local organisations would have no platform to publicise their projects.

I'm sure many a bus driver thinks the job would be so much better if it weren't for the passengers.

Frankly, I cannot see how anyone can be an effective local councillor if they are determined that no-one knows who they are or how (other than the rigmarole of going via the Town Hall) they can be contacted.

I know most are hard working and genuinely want to help the local community – but this seems a strange way of going about it.

If you want to preserve a private life, do not become a local councillor – or journalist for that matter!

In the past I've caused great annoyance with the Great and the Good by claiming that being an unpaid parish or town councillor is a hobby. They believe they are doing a worthwhile job that "nobody would do if I didn't."

Well, a couple of generations ago, train spotters standing at the end of platform nine at Lime Street station could have claimed the same. And so what? They did it because they enjoyed it – and if any local councillor does not enjoy the job, he or she should resign forthwith.

So it's no good being so precious about privacy of you want to do a job in the public domain.

Why was it that 25 years ago I could be presented, without even asking, with full contact details for town and Sefton Councils, whereas now, it seems like trying to prize a pearl out of an oyster to get even the most basic of details out of it?

Plea to make homes safer as a vital New Year's resolution

RESIDENTS across West Lancashire are being told the only New Year's resolution they need to make is to keep their homes secure!

A warning has been issued by the Master Locksmith Association who say that anybody can be the victim of a burglary and residents should not be complacent when it comes to securing their windows and doors.

Many people around this time of year make a bid to drop bad habits and pick up those which will increase our health and happiness, but one important practice which we rarely focus on is checking and maintaining our home security.

According to Dr Steffan George, development director of the Master Locksmiths Association (MLA) – the leading trade association for the locksmithing profession – our attitude towards security is one of the most important changes we can make in 2017.

He said: 'With almost 400,000 burglaries taking place each year in the UK - the main cause of which is easy access i.e. open windows, unsecured doors and damaged locks -getting into the habit of regularly maintaining our security equipment and double-checking that windows and doors are firmly secured when leaving the house is vital.

Report by Ollie Cowan

"There's little more devastating for a family than having their home and personal belongings targeted, and we see it far too often.

"Luckily, making a few small changes can minimise the chances of your home or garage being burgled.

"Firstly, kick-start your security focused habits with a professional home security check. Have an MLA-approved locksmith carry out a security assessment.

"This will involve inspecting the exterior of your property for any damage to doors or windows and checking that all locks and any fitted security alarms work properly and meet your insurance requirements.

"An MLA licensed locksmith may carry out this initial check free of charge."

Homes need to be more secure

Food bank grateful for donations

Volunteers at the food bank

THE volunteers of Digmoor Community Foodbank in Skelmersdale want to thank the residents who responded to their appeal on social media before Christmas for more food.

The helpers at the centre, which is based at Evermoor Hub, had called for help after finding their supplies were low. After their appeal, the community rallied round and came forward with toys, food and clothes.

Amanda Hardwick, one of the volunteers at the foodbank said: "The people of Skelmersdale and West Lancs really care.

"We had run very short and had not received as many donations as we thought, but residents rallied round after reading the appeal on Facebook.

"People came in every day with donations."

Optician offers people advice on how to deal with dry and sore eyes

Optician offers advice on how to deal with dry and sore eyes

DRY and sore eyes are a problem for many people at this time of year so a local optician is offering people advice on how to deal with the issue.

Cold winds and central heating can play havoc with people's eyes, leaving them feeling dry, gritty and bloodshot.

The gritty sensation sometimes experienced in the eyes during the winter months can be made worse with dehydration.

Sully Patel from Specsavers in Skelmersdale said: "Reducing the setting on your central heating, avoiding car heaters, especially at face level and sitting away from direct heat such as gas or electric heaters can help.

"It's also a good idea to cut back on the coffee and drink more water. Using eye drops can add extra lubrication to dry eyes."

The term 'dry eye' is used when the oil content of the tears doesn't efficiently lubricate the eye. People with dry eyes often have plenty of watery tears so adding eye drops may seem to not make sense but it's actually a vital contribution to the oil content of the tears.

At this time of year many individuals suffer from the common cold and flu. These are respiratory infections and can inflame the conjunctiva – the clear membrane covering the whites of the eyes, leaving them feeling irritated. People can help prevent cross infection from bacteria in coughs and sneezes by washing their hands before touching their eyes.

Sully said: "Winter is a great time to get your eyes tested as poor light conditions can make you susceptible to eyestrain. Everyone should get their eyes tested once every two years, or sooner if you are experiencing problems."

Armed forces charity appoints Lancs president

Report by Danielle Thompson

SSAFA, formerly known as the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association, provides provide vital practical, financial and emotional support to local individuals facing issues ranging from financial hardship and homelessness to family breakdown.

Dennis is a qualified Aeronautical Engineer and served in the Hellenic Airforce before he was employed by the General Electric and Hellenic Aerospace Industry. He founded Euravia Engineering in 1988 and the company received the Queen's Award for Enterprise in the International Trade category in 2010. In May 2015, he sold his business to Magellan Aerospace Corporation and is now the President of Euravia Engineering.

For more than 20 years, Dennis has also been successfully involved in establishing, leading, supporting and encouraging a number of regional initiatives and partnerships between the private, public and voluntary sectors, with the aim of increasing investment in the area and improving the quality of life across Lancashire.

Dennis Mendoros, the new branch president of SSAFA Lancashire, with his wife Karen

In 2002, Dennis was awarded the OBE for Services to Industry and in 2004 was appointed a Deputy Lieutenant of Lancashire and in 2010, he was appointed High Sheriff of Lancashire by Her Majesty the Queen.

Dennis Mendoros said: "I am honoured to have been appointed President of the Lancashire Branch of SSAFA. It is the longest serving national tri-service military charity with a proud history extending for more than 131 years, for those who are serving or have ever served in our Armed Forces and their families."

SUPER SLIMMER NICOLA HAS LOST 3ST 7LB WITH SLIMMING WORLD. HERE'S HER STORY.....

"I'm a busy mum of two, so finding a way to lose weight that's easy, fits around me and my family and most importantly, works was essential. Slimming World couldn't be more perfect!

My Slimming World group is a special place. Right from the start my Consultant and the other members were so welcoming and caring - they're like a second family. We have a lot of fun and really support each other through the ups and downs of losing weight, as well as swapping recipes and food ideas. They've given me plenty of tips to save money on my shopping too.

I love it that we can still enjoy so many of the family's favourite meals, like past bake, curries and roast dinners - and I can still have the occasional treat like chocolate and a glass of wine. Best of all I'm never hungry and I'm in control. Thanks to Slimming World I've found my old self and I'm so much more relaxed and happy. If you want to lose weight and live happy find yourself a Slimming World group. I was so glad I did and I promise you will be too."

Nicola's Favourite daily menu....
Breakfast: Boiled Egg, 1 slice 400g wholemeal toast
Lunch: Homemade Veg Speed Soup with 1 slice wholemeal bread with chicken & lettuce
Dinner: Spaghetti Bolognese with Courgetti Spaghetti Or Steak, jacket potato & veg
Snacks: Watermelon, apples, tangerines & Hi Fi Bars

Paula Drops Two Dress Sizes And Is Set To Share Her Slimming Secrets

A Slimming World member who has transformed her life by losing 1st 5lb is using her success to shape a whole new career helping other people change their lives and achieve their weight loss dreams too.

After dropping from 10st 4lb to in just 8st 13lb in six months Paula felt so passionately about the difference it made to her life that she wanted to train as a Consultant herself. She starts running her own group to help others to lose weight on Monday 2nd January at Lydiate Village Centre, Lambshear Lane at 9.15am.

Paula says: "My weight was affecting my health, my cholestrol was an unhealthy 5.6 and my self-confidence was at a low and I knew I needed to make a change. Joining Slimming World was the best decision I've ever made – not only did I lose weight but my cholestrol level dropped to 4.4 and I am feeling fantastic."

Slimming World's Food Optimising eating plan encourages slimmers to fill up on satisfying, healthy foods like fruit and veg, pasta, rice, potatoes, lean meat, fish and fat-free dairy so they can slim down without ever going hungry. Paula says "I thought you had to starve to lose weight I was amazed that I was able to satisfy my appetite with all my favourite foods and still eat chocolate!."

Once she'd reached her target weight, Paula decided to train to become a Slimming World Consultant too, so that she could motivate and inspire others who struggle with their weight . She adds: "I found people were always asking how I'd lost my weight and I loved telling people all about Slimming World – even the ones who didn't ask! Knowing how desperate things can feel when you think you've tried everything, I wanted to help others to achieve what I'd achieved so it made sense to turn that into a career. The hours are flexible and there are great rewards too.

So if you want to slim without ever going hungry pop along to Paula's Slimming World group held every Monday at 9.15am, from the 2nd January at Lydiate Village Centre, Lambshear Lane. Anyone's welcome or for more information about Slimming World call Paula on 07484263698.

IN IT TOGETHER!

For local couple Michelle and Dave Phillips losing weight had never crossed their minds until issues with health and well being started to creep into their lives.

'We didn't even consider ourselves to have a weight problem.' Said Michelle 'we just enjoyed our lives and embraced social occasions as they came along. It was only when Dave started having issues with his health that we started to consider making changes to a healthier lifestyle and looking back now at photos we can see quite clearly that – yes – our weight was definitely becoming a contributing factor to how we were both feeling.'

As Christmas was approaching Michelle was also faced with the dilemma of choosing a Christmas outfit for her works night out. Michelle said" Every year this had filled me with more and more dread – each year I seemed to be creeping up a size and yet had never even considered doing anything about it. When Dave was diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes though we knew that something had to change. I knew that by the following Christmas I didn't want my Christmas night to be the ordeal it was – I wanted to enjoy it!"

Michelle had heard about a local Slimming World group and made a pact with her friend that they would both go together and support each other through it.

Having not been to a Slimming World group before Michelle wasn't sure what to expect. ' I needn't have worried' she said ' as soon as I walked through the door in September 2011 I felt welcomed and accepted and I was confident that the group and the consultant were going to help me succeed. I attended each week and took away recipes and ideas which I then took home and within days Dave was on board too! We enjoyed all our old favourites – curries, fish and chips and we could even have a takeaway on a Saturday night with a couple of glasses of wine! How could we not succeed?'

Within 15 months Michelle and Dave both lost weight.

'We felt absolutely amazing' said Michelle and I knew our health was far better and Christmas was never going to be an ordeal again'

However, It wasn't going to be that easy. Changes in work and moving house all took its toll over a couple of busy years.

'Before we knew it we had stopped going to group and our old habits had started to creep back in. We didn't like that our weight was starting to creep up again. We looked around for our nearest group and we both knew that walking back though the doors would be the best thing for us to do. 'Our group in Lydiate helped us to get back on track. We didn't feel judged we just felt supported and within a few months we were both back in our Targets. We have both lost 5 stone each and the difference is just incredible. Dave has now been able to come off his Diabetes medication all together which is just brilliant and this Christmas has been a total different experience. I've been out on numerous occasions feeling and looking so much better about myself. The added bonus being that I can still enjoy my food and drinks without feeling guilty and without having to worry about what those scales will say. With the help and support of my consultant Sue and my fabulous Sliming World group in the Cheshire Lines Hub, any indulgences. I may have will soon be back under control'

Michelle will be joining the award winning Slimming World Team in the Hub in Cheshire Lines, Sefton Lane and will opening her brand new group on Tuesday 2nd January at 6.30pm.

There are 10 sessions a week to choose from in the Hub and this year their amazing members have lost an incredible 18, 247 lbs that's an incredible 1,303 stone and 5lb!

Michelle added 'I just can wait to help inspire others to achieve their dreams and be part of our amazing weight loss success. Slimming World has simply changed my life!'

For more details on the session held at the Maghull Hub contact Michelle 07931 125172, Sue 07957 531346 or Gill on 07921 222405

Most popular names we give our pets are revealed

The most popular names we gave to our pets last year include Poppy and Charlie

Report by Ollie Cowan

THE MOST popular name for a family pet has now been revealed!

Topping the list for 2016 are Poppy and Charlie the names we pet lovers prefer to call our pampered pooches and felines according to new research.

They beat off competition from Alfie, Bella and Molly to claim the top spots for 2016 – knowledge which will come in handy for a future pub quiz!

The 2016 list was drawn up by Vets4Pets, and saw Poppy crowned number one for both cats and dogs, while Charlie was second overall.

But if you're getting a new cat or dog this year, the research also provided an indication of popular names for 2017.

Cat owners are increasingly using TJ, Rey and Kylo more, while for dogs a trend for names Duggee, Beaux and Kingsley is expected.

"We see thousands of pets in our Vets4Pets practices across the UK every week, and the creativity of pet owners in choosing their pet's name can be amazing," said Dr Huw Stacey, director of clinical services at Vets4Pets.

"The UK is obviously a nation of pet lovers and while a name helps identify a pet to its owner, the most important thing about pet ownership is making sure your dog, cat or rabbit is happy and healthy.

"Many families tend to let their children decide the name of their pet, so it's perhaps not surprising that youngsters choose what can seem to be the easiest name to remember and one that they recognise from school.

"Pets are a great addition to family life and can teach children many important lessons, so we always advise new pet owners to talk to their local vet about choosing the best pet for their circumstances.

"As for names, our only advice is to use something that is easy to remember and you're happy to tell your friends and family!"

More unusual names from the list include Captain Edmund Blackadder and Calvin Harris for cats, with dog names including De'Niro and Abraham Lincoln.

"The variety of names we find is extraordinary, but as vets we're here to help owners with pet welfare, be it vaccinations, microchipping or major operations such as hip replacements," added Dr Stacey.

Council to debate stable block plans

PLANS have been submitted to create a new stable block at a farm in Lathom.

Applicant Mr Temme has submitted a planning application to West Lancashire Borough Council to create a block of four stables and a hay store as well as a 50 metre by 25 metre riding arena for personal use at Ottershead Farm on Dicks Lane.

Residents have until Friday, January 13 to share their views on the proposals.

Russian guitarist to perform music from southern hemisphere

IN the midst of New Year winter, Douglas Music brings the sound of warm southern strings and Latin America from the guitar of Russian–born, Andrey Lebedev on Saturday, January 14 at 7.45 pm in the Arena Auditorium, Parbold Village Hall.

He will play evocative Spanish classical guitar music by romantic composers, like Isaac Albeniz and Francisco Tarrega with works by southern hemisphere composers in the Spanish tradition from Australia, Cuba and Brazil, like Villa Lobos.

Andrey was brought up in Australia where his exceptional musicality and commanding stage presence were first recognised. Guitar-maestro, Julian Bream handpicked Andrey to perform for the Julian Bream Trust to premiere two Trust commissions in a London recital curated by Bream in 2014.

Andrey is now an artist supported by the Countess of Munster Musical Trust, Arts Global, the Tillett Trust and the International Guitar Foundation Young Artist schemes. He is currently a post-graduate student at the Royal Academy of Music.

Douglas Music has set up a Ticket and Ride scheme to offer a subsidised mini-bus service to and from its concerts for members of the audience who would love to come to the events but who cannot use or do not have access to public transport.

To find out more and book Ticket and Ride, first book your concert ticket at Douglas Music's Box Office and then contact 01704 893373 between 9am, and 2pm weekdays or leave a message to reserve a seat on the bus and to make the pick-up and drop-off arrangements.

Andrey Lebedev

As part of Douglas Music's commitment to the NW community it has maintained its admission price for students/young persons at £5 for any concert.

Douglas Music is supported by the Arts Council, England, Lancashire County Council and West Lancashire Borough Council.

Company looking for script writers for their murder mystery evenings

Members from Ormskirk Theatre Company

MURDER Nights - interactive murder mystery evenings where the audience solve the murder by asking the suspects questions and the actors improvise the answers - have been a staple of the Ormskirk Theatre Company repertoire for almost 20 years.

Hugely popular with audiences, their scripts have been performed all over the world.

On Monday, January 9, Gary Simpson will be conducting a workshop for anyone who has wanted to write one.

A spokeswoman for Ormskirk Theatre Company said: "So get your thinking caps on, fill those inkwells and join us for a light-hearted evening designed to inspire and get those creative juices going. Who knows? Your script could join our growing list of scenarios which are performed across the country."

The event is at the Ormskirk Civic Hall on Monday, January 9 at 8pm.

Popular medium back on road

ONE of the nation's favourite mediums is back on the road and returns to Southport theatre on Thursday, January 26.

In 2017 psychic Sally Morgan will be entertaining sell-out crowds across the land as she displays her psychic abilities.

After a headline-grabbing 2016, Sally is back where she belongs in front of live audiences, sharing her skills in a show which is unique to every venue. Funny, entertaining, sometimes heart-breaking, often controversial: Call Me Psychic marks her ninth year touring.

Sally said: "I love being on the road, reaching out to my fans and comforting people about life after death. Every night when I'm on stage amazing things happen and it's a privilege to be able to pass on messages of love and comfort to the people I share my gift with."

Her successful TV series Psychic Sally On the Road, which ran for three series continues to be shown across the world.

Sally is also a best-selling author with several books under her belt, with the most recent Call me Psychic documenting her journey to superstardom and the triumphs and tragedies she's faced on the way.

Google creates their own new car

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

IT'S potentially the biggest shake-up in motoring since Henry Ford set up shop. Yet its instigators would rather you didn't buy the cars it'll create.

MOIA might sound like a Radio 2 newsreader or one quarter of Irish folk band Clannad but it's actually the Volkswagen Group's latest company, putting it alongside Audi, Bentley, Porsche and Skoda.

Except that MOIA isn't a car company. It's – and you'll have to imagine me waggling my fingers as I say it – a "mobility services company".

Brilliant, I initially thought. Europe's biggest car-maker has decided to help The Champion's more mature readers by using know-how from the Golf and Passat to reinvent the mobility scooter. No longer will looking cool while wobbling about 8mph be the preserve of pensioners travelling in those tiny three-wheelers styled to look like Harley Davidsons – I can just imagine a Golf GTI-inspired mobility scooter with a golf ball gearknob, subtle go-faster stripes and clever traction control. But I was wrong. Apparently MOIA is aimed not at the over-65s, not even at Ford and Vauxhall, but at Google, Apple and – more imminently – Uber.

The whole concept of how we get around is changing, and Volkswagen is determined to be all German about it and lay its towel down before anyone else does.

Unless you've been in a cave for the past year you'll already know that Google has managed to find enough time away from making search engine cartoons to create a car.

Only a few months ago Ford acknowledged Apple is now one of its big rivals. And just about every cabbie from Liverpool to Louisiana is feeling a tad cross with Uber muscling in on their turf.

At the moment MOIA is all about car-sharing and ride-hailing apps but don't be surprised to see it dipping into Volkswagen's vast parts bin to rustle up a car or two of its own.

Nor should you raise an eyebrow when Toyota, Renault and everyone else follow suit. When cars are banned from the big cities, it'll be whoever wins the mobility-sharing race that rules the roost.

There will be a time in a distant future when moving about in Liverpool involves hailing a ride with some likeminded mates in a vehicle none of you own – but I don't know if it'll be VW, Apple, Google or Uber that will be supplying it. Just as long as it isn't a mobility scooter styled like a Harley Davidson, then I won't really mind too much.

Linnets' slow start proves too costly

Burscough lost 3-1 under the lights at Lancaster

Lancaster 3
Burscough 1

BURSCOUGH conceded two goals in the opening eight minutes as they slumped to a disappointing defeat.

The Linnets got off to the worst possible start when they went behind in the first minute, and this was made worse eight minutes later when the home side doubled their lead.

It was 3-0 on 22 minutes, but Burscough pulled one back when they struck straight from a corner when the set-piece curled straight into the net.

The Linnets' match on Monday, January 2 at Prescott Cables was postponed due to a frozen pitch, but they hope to be back in action this Saturday when they host Scarborough.

Frost bites into Skem budget as delayed winter games cause cash chaos

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

Skelmersdale United's ground has fallen foul of frost

IT HASN'T been a particularly cold winter, but what frost there has been has arrived at exactly the wrong time for Skelmersdale United.

A mixture of the elements and enforced alterations to fixtures have meant Skelmersdale have had only one home game since November 12 and crucially has seen the loss of two potentially lucrative home games that were scheduled for the festive period on December 29 and January 2, both because of overnight frost.

A club spokesperson said: "Nowadays in football you keep all the money that comes through your turnstile for a league game, but you get nothing for away games in fact you have to pay for a coach to get your team to the away games.

"All this time you also have to pay the players money to them every week. If you have a home game every other week or more this regularly supplies a large part of a clubs income and hence the money to pay the players.

"We were set to have three home league games in November, three in December and another on January 2. We had one on November 12 against Ilkeston and another on Saturday December 17 against Rushall Olympic.

"Three games were either rearranged by the league or were postponed between November 1 and Christmas, leaving us desperate that the two Christmas matches were played especially as they usually bring bigger attendances than ordinarily scheduled games due to more people being off from work for the holidays.

"The postponement of the two Christmas home games has cost us at least a four figure amount and has without doubt, left us with a big hole in our budget, just at a time that we really need income.

"The games will be re-played but will probably now be midweek and the attendance will be greatly reduced on what we could expect for a Christmas fixture.

"Obviously we need as many people as possible through the turnstile at our next home against Stourbridge on Saturday, January 14 and against Blyth Spartans on Tuesday, January 17, both are attractive matches against good teams so hopefully the public can help.

"We also ask the local business community for some help, we have quite a few sponsorship opportunities available and if they were to help us out it would be greatly appreciated."

Marine and Skelmersdale in action. Picture by Susan Nugent

NEW signing Jack Watts marked his debut in fine style as he scored a hat-trick as Skelmersdale fought back for a hard-earned point.

The opening encounters were close until Peter Wylie lost his footing in the 16th minute - the ball went straight to Michael Monaghan landing perfectly on his left foot 12 yards from goal, his shot going neatly inside the post.

Skelmersdale were 2-0 down after a penalty was awarded to the home side. Up stepped former Skelmersdale striker Dan Mitchley.

After the break, Skelmersdale had a more attacking shape and almost immediately it was noticeable that Skem were prepared to run at the Marine defence, Shacklock creating problems for them from the off.

Skelmersdale won a corner on 53 minutes and Watts, who was a Christmas Eve signing from Burscough, swung it in.

Marine goalkeeper Calvin Hare misjudged the flight of the ball, getting only the merest of touches as it went into the net behind him.

On 58 minutes Skelmersdale levelled. Paul Foy ran at the home defence and laid the ball sideways to Watts, he hit a low shot that just crept inside Hare's near post.

Former Skelmersdale player Warren Bellew put a header over the Skem crossbar on 64 minutes, then three minutes later he restored Marine's lead, he too swung in a corner and although Cookson got it a touch it went into the net.

In the 79th minute Skelmersdale won a free-kick on the right and the ball was floated to the edge of the 18 yard box, a blatant push saw the men in blue instantly win another in a far more dangerous position.

Watts lined the ball up and fired it low and hard it went into the corner of the net to make it 3-3.

This Saturday Skelmersdale travel across the Pennines to West Yorkshire where they play Frickley Athletic.

Master of Cyber Security

For Daniel Woods, choosing to study a Foundation Degree at West Lancashire College was a fantastic career opportunity.

Daniel completed a BTEC Level 3 qualification and was very committed to academic study. He decided to continue his studies at West Lancashire College and progressed onto a Foundation Degree. Daniel then completed a BSc in Computing (with honours) and made the choice to increase his knowledge by studying a Master's Degree in Cyber Security. After achieving his Master's Degree he made a life changing decision to become a teacher and has recently gained employment as a Lecturer in IT at the college where his ambitions first began.
